

August 2012

Dear Parents,

The Continental League Administrators are committed to ensuring that there is a positive and supportive environment at all athletic contests. Collectively, we believe that valuable life lessons such as fairness, integrity, and respect are values positively reinforced in the competitive arena. It is our hope that students-athletes will successfully face the challenges of overcoming adversity or respectfully celebrate success associated with winning. Simply put, competition teaches the graceful acceptance of the end result of competition. The positive aspects that are a result of our high school athletic programs are best developed in an atmosphere that emphasizes good sportsmanship and fair play.

Attending a high school sporting event to observe and cheer is a privilege and not an opportunity to verbally abuse the officials, players, or coaches or to exhibit unsportsmanlike conduct. It is the expectation of school officials that fans can't participate in derogatory cheers or disrespectful behavior such as: ridiculing athletes, taunting, or trash talking. It only takes a few ill-mannered fans to spoil the positive environment most fans want and the players deserve.

Your positive support for your team, respect for the hard play of opponents and the decisions of the officials, and an appreciation of the hard work of the coaches help reinforce the positive values associated with competitive athletics. Attending any high school athletic event is an opportunity to observe competitors who participate for the love of the game. The Continental League administrators believe that the competitive arena is an extension of the classroom and that we all need to protect and ensure that our athletes have the opportunity to learn in a positive environment.
